Monthly Comment

Markets were flat in May, affected by material political uncertainty in Italy and the ongoing slowdown in leading indicators, somewhat compensated by weakness in the €. ELEV A European Selection was up 1.47%, outperforming the index by 134 bps.

Sector allocation had a negative impact in the month; we were affected by our underweights in Technology and Materials. Stock selection had a significantly positive impact, particularly within Consumer Discretionary and in Health care. Indeed, the Fund benefited from the sharp appreciation of Puma with the spin off from Kering making the company investable again whilst the brand continues to have strong global momentum. Ocado also rose sharply with the signature of a huge contract with Kroger in the US. The development should act as a multi-year platform for growth validating their differentiated business model further. On the contrary, the value portion of the portfolio, banks in particular, was affected by the Italian crisis and was a drag on performance. Oriflame's results indicated a material deceleration in trends, leaving us disappointed.

In May, we initiated a position in Beiersdorf. We are very impressed by the growth rates delivered by this family-owned group, not only by their Nivea brand but also by their upmarket cosmetic brand, La Prairie. In our view, this acceleration of growth does not look captured in consensus expectations. On the other hand, we sold Rocket Internet after a strong performance. More generally, we have continued to reduce the cyclical and financial exposure in the portfolio in light of the sustained deterioration in leading indicators. Subsequently, the Fund now has a slight growth bias at 57.7% of the portfolio's exposure.

Since inception, Eleva European Selection is up 30.09%, an outperformance of 1591 bps to the STOXX 600 Total Return (SXXR).
